Rev. Lee Ching Chee (李清詞牧師)

*"I live by four main principles:
give up not, refuse not, fear not and have hope –
I may be disappointed, but I never give up hope."*

Among many honours, our illustrious alumna was nominated for the 1000 Women for the Nobel Peace Prize 2005; she is one of the 108 nominees from China Region (Mainland, Taiwan & Hong Kong) and one of only nine from Hong Kong.

This octogenarian has devoted her life to God's mission, women in general, and her alma mater in particular, since graduating in 1966. Today's speaker, Honorary Patron of our fundraising projects, school councillor, chaplain, vice principal, teacher and alumna, she exemplified her principle of 'refusing not': she has tirelessly supported the school in many ways. For this, we are truly grateful.

Her works included Collection of Reverend CC Lee's Essays, The Other Half – Women's Position in the Church, Speaking from the Heart and My Memoirs.

Professor LO Wai Luen (盧瑋鑾教授)

[Like the giansu, labourers who haul passengers and goods in barges upstream against the River Yangtze currents], teachers in the frontline willingly shoulder their responsibility to convey knowledge to their students on top of their heavy workload and despite setbacks and prohibitive forces.

Among the many accolades she has won in her eminent academic career are the CUHK Vice Chancellor's Exemplary Teaching Award in 2000, the HKIED Outstanding Educator Award in 2003 and the Hong Kong Arts Development Council's Award for Outstanding Contribution in Arts in 2010.

An ardent teacher of Chinese literature for four decades, she insists on teaching by example and succeeds in not only cultivating her students' literary passion, but also in shaping their values for life.

Honorary University Fellow, august teacher, mentor and friend, she is also a prolific writer widely known by her pseudonym, Siu Si. Her publications included Talks on the Way, Hong Kong Literature: a Survey, Random Thoughts When Reading at Night and A Lifetime of Discipleship.
